BECOME A STREAMWATCHER

Attend a training session and join the BWA's first and longest running program, Streamwatch. Become one of the 50+ volunteers who monitor and act as stewards of the streams near their homes. Water quality data is collected once a month to provide a graphic, long-term snapshot of the health of our streams.

Streamwatch training sessions:

Thursday, March 30, 6:30 p.m. at East Stroudsburg University's Moore Building, Room 201, OR Saturday, April 8, 11:30 a.m. at Northampton Community College's Kapp Hall, Room 104. Sessions are led by Jackie Speicher. Call 570-839-1120 or email info@brodheadwatershed.org to register.
