

Do You Know Who To Call When . . .

Rep. Rosemary Brown of the Pa. 189 district was recently given WHO TO CALL WHEN, contact handouts, provided by the Brodhead Watershed Association. These handouts list agencies to call when someone sees a problem in a stream, such as trash dumping, unusual odors or water discoloration, fish kills, or wetland disturbances.

To receive a copy of the WHO TO CALL WHEN handout, residents and businesses are encouraged to contact either, Representative Brown's office at 570-420-8301, or the BWA office at 570-839-1120. The BWA wants this information in the hands of local residents, township and county officials, area businesses and their employees to help keep local streams clean.

Ellen Davis, BWA Streamwatch Coordinator, presented the handouts to Representative Rosemary Brown at the Barrett-Paradise Friendly Library
